

Introduction for Michael Poll

“Selling Your Greek Experience After Graduation!”

Be sure to thank program sponsors

Welcome to our program! As a courtesy to our speaker and our audience, please take a moment to silence your cell phones. Thank you.

Many colleges and universities regard today’s guest as a leading authority on personal development and career enhancement. Michael is a full time speaker and consultant who has spoken from Toronto to the Virgin Islands and in 43 states.

As a college student, he struggled to get good grades. Frustrated with internship opportunities and campus life offerings, Michael created his own. This initiative later turned out to be one of his best marketing strategies when entering the world of work.

Michael has worked as a television producer, sales supervisor, professional event manager and in various positions in higher education. He currently runs two businesses and has had more than twenty-one articles published.

Colleges aren’t the only groups benefiting from Michael. He’s consulted with people from nearly 1,200 different non-education organizations too! People from groups such as Kodak, Bank One, Nextel, Unilever, Sears, Kinkos, ESPN, State Farm, Ford Motor and AT&T. Therefore, he brings practical, “real world” strategies and ideas directly to college students!

Michael lives in the Chicago area where he enjoys spending time at the beach and laughing with his family. We’re glad he’s with us here today and his presentation; “Selling Your Greek Experience After Graduation!” will surely get us moving in the right direction! Please help me welcome our guest and Straight “B” student, Michael Poll...
